

5 good reasons to take part in NHS research

EVERY MINUTE,

one patient is recruited to participate in NHS research in England such as testing new drugs and devices. Research is vital to improve our health service and requires close working between patients, healthy volunteers, the NHS, universities and life sciences companies.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR OR NURSE about research and see trials seeking volunteers at: www.bepartofresearch.uk

