

Please could you help with our clinical research?

We are looking for men and women (ages 50 years and over) to help us with our research

Your GP practice is supporting a research project that is being run by the University of Sheffield

- The SELF-FRAX Study -

This research is studying 'osteoporosis'.
A disease that causes a weakening of bones making them break (fracture) more easily.

The SELF-FRAX study aims to 'raise awareness of fracture risk factors and improve osteoporosis care'.

This is an 'online study' (however paper-based participation is also possible). You will not need to attend any GP or hospital appointments.

If you would like more information or to receive paper-based study documents through the post
